We understand your organization is likely spending a majority of your time and resources responding to and containing the COVID-19 pandemic. With so much still unknown, we want to help.

We built Feedtrail's Emergency solution to help you do the following:

- Send out important announcements in real time via text message or email, directly to your entire patient population
- Direct patients to a COVID-19 information page on your website or social media page for real-time updates
- Push patients to your patient portal or organization's application page in the App store
- Send out patient feedback requests and care assessment checks to identify at-risk patients sooner in their cycle, and without requiring them to come in person
- Better understand your patient population's exposure to COVID-19 to help you prepare for future patient volume

We are offering this FREE OF CHARGE (minus messaging costs) and your team can be live with this platform in less than 24 hours.

If you would like to see a demo account highlighting ways in which your organization could use Feedtrail, please click here: <https://coviddemo.feedtrail.com/>

As well, if you'd like to set up time for a call please let me know directly and we will get you up and running ASAP.

Sincerely,

Paul Jaglowski
